Near Term	Phase I — First five years. Starting Day 1.	Mid Term	Phase II — Years 5–15. Build on Phase I wins.	Long Term	Phase III — Years 15–30. Structural changes.

The United States built something remarkable — a broad middle class, public institutions that kept concentrated power in check, and a basic social contract that said if you work hard, you can afford a life. That system has been methodically weakened. This is the plan to rebuild it.

Pillar 1

Fix the Foundations

Healthcare, education, childcare, and the basic cost of a functional life

The basic costs of a functional life — healthcare, childcare, housing, education — have been allowed to grow faster than wages for decades. These are not market failures. They are policy failures. We fix them.

- Make childcare affordable

We will cap childcare costs at 7% of household income for families using federally subsidized programs. Childcare should not cost more than rent. If we want parents in the workforce, we have to make that possible. This is Phase I legislation — it starts in the first term.

Near Term
- Restore public health infrastructure

We will restore the CDC, NIH, and the Vaccines for Children program to their pre-2017 funding levels, adjusted for inflation. We will reinstate the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices' statutory independence. The measles outbreak is the documented result of dismantling this infrastructure. We rebuild it.

Near Term
- Reduce college tuition and expand adult education

We will cap and reduce tuition at public universities. We will expand vocational training programs and tie unemployment benefits to free enrollment in retraining. Education after 18 should not be a debt sentence.

Near Term
- Protect children from algorithmic exploitation

We will establish age-appropriate protections for minors on digital platforms. Under 13: full consent requirements. Ages 13–15: no behavioral profiling, no targeted advertising, chronological feeds only. Ages 16–17: defaults set to protect, with opt-in for algorithmic content. This is child protection, not censorship.

Mid Term

Make healthcare affordable

Mid Term

We will create a public health insurance option that competes with private insurers, driving premiums down. The goal over time is universal coverage. We pay for it by reallocating existing spending more efficiently and by taxing extreme wealth. You keep your doctor. You keep your private insurance if you want it. You also get a public alternative that actually works.

Pillar 2Same Rules for Everyone

Accountability, anti-corruption, and the restoration of equal justice

The rules that apply to ordinary Americans do not apply equally to their representatives, to the corporations that lobby them, or to the wealthiest individuals who have the resources to avoid them. That changes.

Ban congressional stock trading

Near Term

Members of Congress will not be permitted to trade individual securities while in office. Mandatory blind trusts for all holdings. The STOCK Act has been in place since 2012 — with a $200 penalty for violations. That is not accountability. This is. 86% of Americans across party lines support this. It is one of the first things we pass.

End insider trading and conflicts of interest for all officials

Near Term

We will strengthen criminal penalties for crimes committed in office. We will eliminate plea bargains and reduced charges for politicians who break the law. We will require full financial disclosure from presidents while in office. Public service is not a business opportunity.

Make taxes simpler and fairer

Near Term

The government already has your income information. We will use it. IRS pre-filing means your return arrives completed — you confirm it, correct it, or ignore it and file your own. We will also expand enforcement targeting income over $400,000, where the IRS estimates $696 billion in legally owed taxes go uncollected every year. We collect them.

Hold detention facilities to a standard

Near Term

Migrant detention facilities will be subject to mandatory rotating congressional inspections by bipartisan committees. The conditions in these facilities are a function of who is watching. We watch.

Fix how we vote

Near Term

We will establish Election Day as a federal holiday. We will set federal standards to end partisan gerrymandering. We will make it easier to vote and harder to suppress votes.

Close the loopholes wealthy individuals use to avoid taxes

Mid Term

Offshore accounts, shell corporations, and investment structures that allow indefinite tax deferral on accumulated wealth will be closed. This is not a new tax. It is enforcing the taxes that are already owed.

Tax billionaires and digital platforms fairly

Mid Term

A wage earner pays tax on every dollar they earn the year they earn it. A billionaire whose portfolio grows by $500 million pays nothing until they choose to sell. We will close that gap — taxing billionaire income on an annual accrual basis the same way wages are taxed, not waiting indefinitely for a voluntary sale event. Paired with a digital services levy on the largest technology platforms whose revenues are generated by American users.

Give you ownership of your data

Mid Term

Any company that collects data about you beyond their core service must have your specific, informed consent. Sensitive data requires affirmative opt-in. You can access, correct, and delete what they have on you. Mass unauthorized data harvesting will be criminalized.

End foreign interference in our elections

Mid Term

We will establish clear criminal penalties for coordinated foreign-linked disinformation campaigns and domestic fraud operations targeting elections. Narrowly scoped to protect free speech while closing the enforcement gaps that currently exist.

Establish a sensible firearms standard

Mid Term

We will create a two-track system. Track A preserves state-administered hunting and sporting licenses for manual-action long guns — no federal change for hunters and sport shooters. Track B establishes a free Federal Civilian Ownership Certificate for handguns and semi-automatics, administered through military installations and National Guard facilities. No federal registry. Grandfathered weapons are yours to keep. Built around constitutional compliance from the ground up.

Reform patent law

Mid Term

Patents that protect genuine innovation are the deal. Patents filed in bulk to extend exclusivity on unchanged drugs — so-called evergreening — are not. We will set clearer boundaries, create accessible compulsory licensing for patents of significant public value, and stop the pharmaceutical industry from extending monopoly pricing indefinitely.

Pillar 3Build What Lasts

Infrastructure, energy, manufacturing, and the foundations of long-term prosperity

The United States built the middle class by building things — roads, grids, factories, supply chains, institutions. We stopped building. The result is visible in every crumbling bridge, every outage, every supply chain crisis. We start building again.

Invest in clean and nuclear energy

Near Term

We will make major federal investments in grid modernization, renewable energy production, and next-generation nuclear. Energy independence is a national security issue. The states and countries that lead in clean energy manufacturing will lead the global economy for the next fifty years. We intend to be among them.

Rebuild domestic semiconductor and technology manufacturing

Near Term

The US share of global semiconductor manufacturing capacity fell from 37% in 1990 to 12% in 2020. We will continue and expand the investments started by the CHIPS Act. Critical supply chains for technology, batteries, and advanced manufacturing belong in the United States.

Audit and reform the Pentagon

Near Term

The Department of Defense has failed its financial audit seven consecutive times. It is the only major federal agency that has never passed a comprehensive audit. We will mandate a clean audit within two years and tie senior civilian and military compensation to progress. We spend more on defense than the next ten countries combined. We can afford to know where it goes.

Protect water and agricultural land

Near Term

We will establish a federal registry of agricultural water rights and ban adversary-nation ownership of US agricultural land and water resources. We will invest in large-scale desalination infrastructure in water-stressed Western states. Water is a national security asset.

Enforce farm labor law and break up agricultural monopolies

Near Term

Agricultural workers have been excluded from federal labor protections for decades. We close those exemptions. Four corporations control 80% of US beef processing. We enforce antitrust law against them the same way we would any other industry.

Strengthen alliances and foreign relationshipsNear Term

We will restore and strengthen bilateral relationships degraded by unilateralism. Allied relationships with NATO, Five Eyes, and Indo-Pacific partners are the single largest asymmetric advantage the US holds. We will not squander them.

Protect our oceans and expand aquacultureNear Term

We import more than 90% of the seafood we eat, running a $17 billion annual trade deficit in a protein source we are surrounded by. We will expand domestic aquaculture, enforce international fishing agreements, and protect the marine ecosystems that make coastal economies viable.

Reduce dependence on military contractorsMid Term

We will bring core military functions back in-house, reduce the contractor-to-uniformed-personnel ratio, and strengthen procurement fraud enforcement. The military-industrial complex is not a slogan. It is a documented procurement problem with a $183 billion cost overrun on one program alone.

Transition military talent into domestic infrastructureMid Term

We will create voluntary pathways for service members to transition into a National Infrastructure Corps. The military trains people to build, maintain, and operate complex systems at scale. We apply that capacity to roads, grids, water systems, and broadband.

Reform immigration — sensiblyMid Term

We will prioritize skills- and family-based immigration, streamline processing, and enforce employer accountability for violations. Immigration is a net economic positive. The question is whether we manage it intelligently or pretend it isn't happening.

End private prisonsMid Term

We will eliminate for-profit prison management and replace it with nonprofit administration with mandatory mental and behavioral health programs. Private prisons have financial incentives to maintain high incarceration rates and minimize the rehabilitation that might reduce recidivism. That is not a justice system. It is an industry.

Pursue nuclear risk reductionMid Term

We will pursue nuclear risk reduction through allied intermediaries when direct dialogue is blocked. The US and Russia account for 90% of global nuclear warheads. Reducing that risk is not weakness — it is the most important national security work available.

Build national high-speed railLong Term

We will invest in a national high-speed passenger rail network connecting major metropolitan areas. Carbon emissions per passenger are 10% of air travel. Trip times on comparable distances are 40–65% shorter than air when accounting for airport procedures. This is infrastructure that pays for itself.

Protect bodily autonomyLong Term

Medical decisions — including abortion, contraception, gender-affirming care, and IVF — belong between you and your doctor. Not your employer, not your state legislature, not the federal government. We will establish a federal bodily autonomy standard and repeal federal statutes that have been used to restrict access to reproductive and gender-affirming healthcare. 26 countries protect this as a constitutional or statutory right. This is Phase III — it requires building the political conditions in Phase I and II first.
